AMERICA'S 250TH ANNIVERSARY · A CREATED EQUAL CIVICS PROJECT

CREATED EQUAL

A commemorative bench that casts two words from the Declaration of Independence directly into concrete, so the promise cannot fade.

Lettered in the hand of Timothy Matlack, the clerk credited with engrossing the Declaration of Independence, in parchment and ink tones to match the original. Concept sketch, Doty & Sons B4550.

PERMANENT

Formed into the concrete itself. Nothing painted or bolted on to wear away.

MEANINGFUL

A founding ideal, sited where a community already sits down together.

BUILT TO LAST

Solid precast concrete, 570 lbs, made to stand outdoors through Illinois seasons.

ILLINOIS MADE

Cast by Doty & Sons Concrete Products, Sycamore, Illinois, family owned since 1948.

From the Declaration's 250th to the Constitution's 250th in 2037, this bench gives a park district, library, or municipality a lasting, on site way to keep the founding promise in view for "ourselves and our Posterity."

Each bench is individually numbered, like a work of art, and comes with a dedication plaque and suggested ceremony remarks.
